

STRONG NETWORK. STRONG TEAM

Sovendus connects Europe’s leading brands with customers who buy.

We’ve been doing it for 17 years, with one clear focus: turning general checkout traffic into a source of new customers and incremental revenue.

More than 3,000 brands across Europe are already growing with Sovendus through long-term partnerships and real European transaction data. That’s how growth becomes predictable. And scalable. 🚀

Now, we’re expanding our team in Milan. And we’re looking for a recent graduate or early-career profile who is curious, analytical and eager to learn, ready to take their first steps in a commercial and data-driven environment with us.🧡

As a Partnership Manager Assistant – Graduate Internship (Tirocinio extracurriculare), you’ll support both Account Management and Business Development teams, working with data while gaining direct exposure to clients and commercial activities.

Internship: Partnership Manager Assistant

Your tasks

- Support the Partnership Management and Business Development teams in their daily activities
- Monitor partner performance and prepare reports and analyses
  Identify opportunities to optimize partner campaigns and improve results
- Work extensively with Excel, data sets and performance metrics
  Build and maintain relationships with partners and support partner communications
- Generate insights to support business and commercial decisions
  Contribute to commercial initiatives and cross-functional projects

What defines you

- Strong interest in partnerships, digital business and commercial activities
- Motivation to work in a fast-paced and partner-facing environment
  Analytical mindset and confidence working with data
- Good knowledge of Excel
- Structured and detail-oriented approach
- Curiosity and willingness to learn
  Interest in e-commerce, affiliate marketing or digital marketing is a plus
- Scientific or quantitative background is a plus
  Fluent Italian (C2) and good English (B2–C1)
- Based in Milan or nearby, with availability to join the office once a week.

What you can expect

You won’t just work with data — you’ll see how it shapes business decisions and client relationships.
You’ll join a fast-growing, international team where you can learn fast, take responsibility and grow with us.
And where an internship can turn into a full-time opportunity. 🧡

Important**

This role is offered as a Graduate Internship (Tirocinio extracurriculare) and must be activated through a university or accredited training institution (ente promotore).

Candidates must be eligible to sign this type of agreement in Italy.

Apply now

Contact

Make your own impression of Sovendus GmbH at https://karriere.sovendus.com